CARSON TO HEAD FACTORY LEAGUE

Ex-Central President Elected to Lead Local Organization; Student of Game.

Dr. F. R. Carson, former president of the Central league, and a national figure in baseball, was selected as president of the Manufacturers' Baseball league of South Bend and Mishawaka at a meeting of the directors of the organization held last night at the Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Carson succeeds R. B. Breckenridge, who served as executive during 1915, and the league directors feel that in Dr. Carson they have a man who will do much to promote the organization nearer to the perfection which has been the goal since its inception four years ago.

Dr. Carson is probably one of the best-informed baseball men in the central west, particularly among the minors, and is at present a member of the national board of arbitration, a body which ranks next to the national commission, headed by Ban B. Johnson. He was president of the Central league for 11 years and is credited with building the foundation which has permitted that organization to weather the storms of the past few years. Last year he headed the baseball division of the local amateur athletic association and the success he attained in this difficult project is already appreciated.

Is Keen Student of Game. Having a thorough knowledge of baseball rules and practice and a tested executive ability, Dr. Carson is expected to be one of the most important individual assets the factory league has ever secured. In taking the office of president of the factory league Dr. Carson has asserted that he does so for the good of the game, which has been one of his chief loves in life. His election was unanimous, each of the four directors heartily casting his vote for him.

It is probable that another meeting of the league will be called for next week, at which time forfeit money will be deposited and a treasurer chosen. The directors selected C. E. Lentz of Singers and George E. Williams of the Ball Bands as the committee to draft the schedule for the 1916 season, which will open on May 20.

New Directors Named. William McQuaid was formally introduced as the new director from Singers, succeeding Mr. Lentz, who has served in that capacity for three years. Fred Summers succeeds A. A. Fredericks as the Oliver director, and a new director to succeed Mr. Williams will be chosen at the Ball Band factory shortly. Each of the retiring directors is resigning because of a multitude of other duties. The Studebaker club will be represented by William Studebaker, better known as "Bully," the most rabid fan in the league. Mr. Studebaker was unable to be present last night, the Studebaker club being represented by Arthur Nickelbault, who acted as chairman of the meeting. E. Kenneth Todd acting as secretary.

Reports from all the plants except the Ball Bands were that they are primed for the opening of the season. According to the Ball Bands they are not quite set as yet, but will be ready for the opening going. Oliver predicts that other clubs will meet with considerable opposition this season, while the Studebakers are also preparing to add new strength to the club. The champion Singers have little to say except that they will be back this season in an attempt to cop their fourth successive pennant.

FOHL IS LIKELY TO HOLD CLEVELAND JOB

Reported That Ohio City Will Land Gene Packard of the Feds.

International News Service: CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—J. C. Dunn and the men associated with him in the purchase of the Cleveland American league club, will go to Cleveland Thursday to conclude the transfer of the stock. Dunn, who will be president of the organization, after holding a long conference with Pres't Ban B. Johnson of the American league, announced that Lee Fohl likely will be retained as manager.

It was known that Dick Lane and Reed Lane, attorneys of Davenport, Ia., are interested with Dunn in the purchase of the Indians. Two other men attended Pres't Johnson's secret meeting, but their identity was kept secret. All the names of the men financially interested in the Indians will be made public at the meeting in Cleveland this week.

There was a report today that Cleveland would land Gene Packard, southpaw Federal league pitcher, who was with Kansas City last season.

TO IMPROVE BALL PARK SLIGHTLY

Directors of Fair Association Oppose Extensive Changes at Springbrook.

It was practically decided to eliminate extensive improvements on the ball grounds at Springbrook park this season at the meeting of the directors of the Fair association held Monday afternoon. Present plans provide for a new fence on the west side of the grounds and remodeling of the grand stand. It is understood that the plan to improve the park met with considerable opposition among certain of the directors, but it is possible that even yet more progressive steps may be made.

"All's well but quiet," was the report from baseball headquarters Tuesday morning. Ed Smith appeared to be observing Washington's birthday by inscribing a few epistles to reluctant and anxious ball players. Ed being more interested in the reluctant ones.

Ed has little to say about the action of the fair association in failing to make the proposed improvements on the ball park. He continues his labors of gathering together a ball club.

On next Sunday Ed will go to Springfield, O., where the league directors will be in session to decide upon the schedule for the season. Indications are that the fate drafted by John Baumgardner of that city will be accepted by the league and that the local man will get the $50 prize.

According to Pres't E. W. Dickerson, South Bend will probably open in Terre Haute inscribing a few from here about eight days. Reports from other camps about the circuit are that things are beginning to warm up and that Smith will have considerable opposition this season.

25 ANSWER CALL FOR BASEBALL

Indoor Training for 1916 Season Begun at Notre Dame Gymnasium.

Indoor training for the 1916 baseball season was inaugurated at Notre Dame yesterday afternoon when about 25 men answered Coach Harper's first call for candidates.

Yesterday's workout was of a preliminary nature and was short in duration. The pitchers limbered up their arms a bit and the catchers, infielders and outfielders simply lobbed the ball around and took light workouts. Coach Harper does not wish to risk having his baseball men get sore arms and so will not let them settle down to real hard work until they are in fit condition to do so.

The work in training will become more strenuous each day and it is expected that the men will be going at a pretty fair clip by next week.

Veterans Report. With the exception of Motts, Lathrop, Meyers and Cassidy, all of last year's men reported for practice yesterday and limbered up with the recruits. Lathrop, Motts and Cassidy are expected to turn out today but Meyers will not be able to get into action before next week because of a sprained ankle which he suffered in the Wabash basket ball game last Friday night. Lathrop is an outfielder, Motts a catcher, Cassidy a pitcher and Meyers an infielder.

Coach Harper expects to make the baseball schedule public Wednesday. It is known that the hardest card in years has been arranged, that a number of conference schools are on the list and that there will be many good home games.

TRACK MEN OF N. D. ARE PREPARING FOR MICHIGAN

Close Battle Expected Saturday at Indoor Meet—Look for Big Crowd.

With Michigan scheduled to clash with Notre Dame in track here next Saturday night, Coach Rockne began putting his Hoosier athletes through their conditioning work yesterday.

The majority of the track men came out of the Illinois meet in good shape and indications are that they will be able to meet the Wolverines in good condition.

An even larger crowd than that which witnessed the Notre Dame-Illinois clash last Saturday night is expected to see the Hoosiers lock horns with Michigan at the local gym this week. Michigan always proves a big drawing card here in any line of sport and the fact that the meet Saturday will be one of the closest witnessed hereabouts in years is expected to attract a large attendance.
